

Training-Workshop on the Experiential Approach in the Teaching of Qualitative Research Methods

October 8-10, 2018

The Selah Garden Hotel, Pasay City, Manila, Philippines

Not everything that can be counted counts, and not everything that counts can be counted. Qualitative research methods such as focus group discussions and unstructured interviews have become a standard part of the development of valid and reliable survey instruments. With QLR methods providing the balance of the excesses of quantitative research (oversimplification of individual experience through generalization, failure to acknowledge research biases, resulting to guesswork in understanding the human meaning of aggregate data), how can one effectively teach Qualitative Research Methods through the experiential approach?

Enabling every research teacher through skills development, the Asian Society of Teachers Inc. invite you to the Training-Workshop on the Experiential Approach in the Teaching of Qualitative Research Methods on October 8-10, 2018 at The Selah Garden Hotel, Pasay City, Philippines.

OBJECTIVES OF THE TRAINING-WORKSHOP:

- (a) to implement experiential approach in the teaching of qualitative research methods;*
- (b) to guide students in the actual data collection procedure; and*
- (c) to select appropriate qualitative research method that best fits the research purpose.*
