

WEBINAR ON DESIGNING A RESEARCH-BASED GLOBAL COURSE SYLLABUS

May 25-26, 2021

9:00AM – 5:00PM via ZOOM

Rationale

The DNA for effective teaching and learning is a well-designed course syllabus that uses evidence-based practice at the core of pedagogy. Such syllabus, when implemented, transforms the teacher into a scientist in the classroom. This webinar blends together research, pedagogy, technology and vision.

The webinar objectives are to:

1. Design a course syllabus that integrates research and technology;
2. Learn from the best practices of teachers from the top universities of the world; and
3. Explore research designs useful for the various aspects of teaching and learning utilized in the syllabus.

Resource Speaker

Dr. Genaro Virador Japos is the first Filipino scholar to hold a distinction as holder of five doctoral degrees in Education, Management, Human Resource Management, Instructional System, and Organization Development. He is a regular member of the National Research Council of the Philippines Division of Social Sciences. A finalist of Metrobank Search for Outstanding Teacher, he has conducted trainings and conferences in the Philippines and 20 other countries. He was Dean of Father Saturnino Urios University and Vice President and Director of Research at Liceo de Cagayan University. He has managed journals which were accredited by the Commission on Higher Education and indexed by Thomson Reuters, Cengage Gayle, Proquest, Ebsco Host and the Philippine Electronic Journals. He is a visiting professor of public and private universities. He is a published and cited author. Dr. Japos is currently the Professorial Chair of the Polytechnic University of the Philippines and consultant of the Philippine Electronic Journals, the largest aggregator of the Philippine based online journals.
